FELLOWSHIPS, EMPLOYMENT, STUDY/TRAVEL

LENINGRAD STATE UNIVERSITY The Cooperative Russian Language Program offers semester, full year, and summer study for U.S. students. Open to undergraduates, and to beginning graduate students who wish to improve their Russian language proficiency. Flyer posted at the Center. For Spring 1985, deadline: 5 October 1984.

FULBRIGHT-HAYS A tentative Department of Education deadline of 29 October 1984 has been set for The Doctoral Dissertation Research Abroad and Faculty Research Abroad programs. The campus deadline is usually 7-10 days before the agency's deadline. Interested UC Berkeley students and faculty may contact: Nancy Plunkett, Graduate Division, #1 California Hall, 642-0672 for further information.

ACLS/SSRC The American Council of Learned Societies and The Social Science Research Council jointly offer postdoctoral grants, ranging from small amounts to $20,000, in support of research in the social sciences and humanities relating to Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, the German Democratic Republic, post-Byzantine Greece, Hungary, Poland, Romania, and Yugoslavia.

Support is also available for dissertation research, for which applicants must be U.S. citizens who are regular Ph.D. candidates in a U.S. university and who expect to have completed all requirements but the dissertation by 30 June 1985. Applicants must have completed one year on an IREX exchange, except those whose research cannot be conducted in Eastern Europe. Maximum dissertation award is $10,000. Deadline (for both): 15 November 1984.

STUDY IN HUNGARY Intercultural Studies for the Future (InterFuture), under an agreement with the International Cultural Institute in Budapest, offers an exchange program by which undergraduates from U.S. universities may design and pursue independent study projects, in their major fields, in Hungary. The period of study will usually be one semester. Hungarian students and scholars will come to U.S. universities in exchange to conduct research on their own topics. Institutions interested in participating should contact: InterFuture, 150 Nassau Street, Suite 1538, New York, NY 10038.

TRAVEL GRANT FUND A grant from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation has made it possible for the Center to establish a modest Travel Grant Fund for area faculty in the UC and CSU systems. These grants are provided to scholars in the Slavic and East European area, regardless of departmental affiliation, who wish to make short-term use of the resources available on the UC Berkeley campus. Grants will cover transportation, per diem, and research expenses while at Berkeley. The maximum award will be $700, though most awards are expected to be smaller. Decisions on funding will take into account the applicant's efforts to secure alternative funding. Proposals and statements of need for visits expected during December 1, 1984 - May 31, 1985 should reach us by November 1, 1984. Awards will be announced on or about November 15, 1984. Please send materials to Gail W. Lapidus, Chair, Center for Slavic and East European Studies, 372 Stephens Hall, University of California, Berkeley, CA 94720.

POST-DOCTORAL FELLOWSHIP AT BERKELEY

1985-86

A grant from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation will allow the Center for Slavic and East European Studies at The University of California, Berkeley, to offer one or more post-doctoral fellowships for the academic year 1985-86.

Applicants must have completed their dissertations by the time of application, and must have received their PhD no more than three years before the time of prospective arrival in Berkeley. Fellows must be in residence in Berkeley for the major portion of their Fellowship terms, and will be expected to participate in Center activities, including the presentation of at least one public lecture and one seminar.

The main purpose of this fellowship is to give young scholars an opportunity to generate articles or book-length publications from their dissertations, in order to ensure their contribution to knowledge and to increase their competitiveness on the academic job market.

The fellowship pays $18,000 for the academic year. Applications must be received by January 15, 1985. Awards will be announced on or around April 1. Each applicant should submit a full curriculum vitae and three letters of recommendation. Dissertations may be requested at a later date.
